to Meet in New York.

DELEGATES FROM THIS CITY

They Have a Flattering Report to Make to the Superior Conneil at Its Session Next Week-Various Wash ington Chapters and Their Officers-Objects of the Society.

The Supreme Council of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul will meet in New York September 10, 11 and 12, and will be largely attended by members of the order from this city.

The society was founded in 1838 in Paris by Frederick Ozanam and seven friends, and grew until it spread-to every point where there was a Roman Catholic church. The motto adopted was: "Do nuch and say little."

Conferences attached to parishes grew rapidly, and these were aggregated into a particular council. In this city there is one particular council, but the larger cities have more than one. There is a central ouncil in Baltimore, to whom the various parti-ular councils within this jurisdiction report. This central council reports to the opper council, which is in New York, and that council reports to the general council n Paris. This method of reporting is carried out the same throughout the civi-

PURPOSES OF THE SOCIETY. The official organ of the society is called the Bulletin, and is published in Ireland. Epitomes of reports in different languages are publised in the Eulletin. The purposes of the society are to take care of the churches' poor, both physically The report of the particular council of this city is very flattering and shows marked improvement in attendance at meetings and work by members during the past year. There are in Washington thirteen con-ferences and eight aspirant conferences. The latter are composed of boys eighteen years old and under. The particular council of this city was incorporated February 28, 1879, under the title of "The Society of St. Vincent de Paul" of Washington D. C. and was instituted in March, 1861.

"TOM" REED'S CANDIDACY.

Ex-Gov. Burleigh, of Maine, Given Points on the Subject.

Ex-Gov. Burleigh is a loyal supporter of Tom Reed for President, and he impressed me with the sincerity of his devotion to Reed's cause. He remarked incidentally that he did not believe it would break Mr Reed's heart if he failed in the convention "Are you willing, governor," I said, ' to talk on the Presidential question?"

"It seems to me," said the governor, "that very little can be said that is new upon that subject at this time. There is certainly no division of sentiment among the Republicans of Maine. They are for Mr. Reed first, last and all the time What do you think will be the outcome of the convention? "I believe that it will result in the nomination of Mr. Reed."

"Where do you think Mr. Reed's strength will lie, outside of his own State?"
"I think Mr. Reed will be generally strong. He is the logical candidate of the Republican party, and I believe he wil be the recond choice even of those States which have favorite rons of their own to present to the convention.

Will the fact that he is an Eastern man be likely to operate seriously against

"I do not see why it should. It ought rather to be a point in his favor. The Re-publican party was born in the East, and through all its vicirsitudes this section of the country has remained leyal to its fortunes. Yet of all the gentlemen whom the Republican party has elevated to the Presidency, not one has been an Eastern man. Only once in the lifetime of the party has an Eastern standard bearer been selected, and that at a time when the conditions for success were the most unfav orable in its history. I do not see how the locality argument can possibly have any force against Mr. Reed.-Interview in Boston Journal

inal Arrangements Being Made for Establishing a Branch Here. Rev. Dr. Zahm, the eminent scientist and resident of the Notre Dame University at South Bend, Ind., arrived at the Catholic University a few days ago to make final arrangements in regard to the establishment of the lately affiliated College of the Holy Cross. Rev. P. J. Franciscus, as rector, and Rev. T. Tessier, director of studies, will be in charge of this new institution.

Fourteen seminarians are now here and will formally enter into the Divinity Colege on September 24. In addition to these young men, who are to study theology and science, with a view of becoming pr fessors in the order of the Holy Cross, a secular colony from South Bend will be established. This will be known as the post-graduate class of Notre Dame University, and has already enrolled about ten or welve members, who will arrive in a fewdays. The Notre Dame will thus have a colony of thirty or more in attendance at the Catholic University.

STEAMER BAWNMORE BURNED. She Was Wrecked on the Pacific Const Last Week.

San Francisco, Sept. 3.-Fire completed the destruction of the tank steamer Bawnnore, which was wrecked ten miles be low Bandon, Oreg., on the 28th of August. Twelve hours after she went ashore the waves bent her down to starboard, and the water rushed into the cabin and forecastle and got into the tanks.

In the after tank there was a large quantity of lime, and as soon as the water reached it the flames broke out. From tank to tank the flames spread, and soon be hull and iron decks were red hot.

The street cars, lumber, and boats were oon in flames, and although each succeed ing sea that broke over the ship would put out the fire, it was only temporary. The heat of the hull was sufficient to start it again, and when the tug Monarch reache the stranded vessel there was nothing to Every sea makes a clean sweep over her and she is going ashore piecemeal.

Out of 516 Ships Loaded at Bangkok

Not One Was American-A report has been received at the Departnent of State from Consul General John Bar rett at Bangkok, Siam, on opportunities for American shipping, based on Siamese custom returns recently furnished him. These returns show that during the year Bangkok, but not one of them was Ameri can. Of this number 371 were British while the remainder consisted of 62 Ger nan, 55 Norwegian and Swedish, 10 Italnostly with cargo, and 40 were sailing essels mostly in ballast. That the trade of Bangkok is worthy of the effort made by British companies to control it is shown by the fact that the total value of cargoes imported was $17. 183,456, or an average of $41,461 to each vessel. British bottoms carried about 80 per cent of the total value. The total ton-nage was 414,583, or an average of about
